The marriage of Mrs. J. Newson and Mr. Frank Schooley, of Stony Plains, took place at Calgary on Thursday last, April 14th. The happy couple will make their home at Crossfield, where we understand Mr. Schooley has bought the Crossfield Chronicle. Congratulations.

We are agents for the Consumers Tailoring Co. of Canada, Toronto, Ont. Come and see our samples and we will measure you for a suit from this company and save you a good per centage on your clothing account. We guarantee complete satisfaction. Modern Tailoring Co., Osler St., Didsbury.

The young son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Gugin died of heart trouble on Saturday last. The little fellow had been ailing for some time back but was only taken seriously ill about a week before his death. Mr. Gugin happened to be away looking for land at the time the little one was taken ill and although every effort was made to find him he was not located until the day of the funeral, which took place on Monday. The parents have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in their loss.

A Lundy of Innisfail is visiting his sister, Mrs. J. A. Findlay.

NOTICE—As we have sold our hardware business to C. Hiebert & Co., all accounts owing us must be settled by May 15th, at which date our books will be closed. W. H. Smith & Co.

Have Sold Out

A business deal was completed on Tuesday whereby W. H. Smith & Co. disposed of their hardware business to C. Hiebert. The deal was conducted by Gaides & Findlay. Messrs. Smith & Co. have been in business here for about four years and have built up a large business by good management and square dealing which no doubt will be still carried out by the new proprietor, Mr. C. Hiebert, who will take over the business about May 1st. Mr. Hiebert is well known in this district, being one of the pioneer business men of the town, and his former business ability, square dealing and popularity will go a long way in establishing him in his new business venture.

Going After the Breaking

While the Didsbury district is essentially a mixed farming district, cattle, horses, hogs and dairying being a large item in our products, an enormous amount of grain is being grown and by all appearances this spring a larger amount than ever will be sown. All the implement dealers report an excellent business this spring in farm machinery, but the largest outlets for breaking up the virgin prairie was sold last week by Mr. A. G. Lisener, the International Harvester agent in Didsbury, when he sold two 20 h.p. International Gasoline Tractors with John Deere gang plows, one to H. J. Helu of Neapolis and one to Williams & Gwyn of Lacknerville. These gentlemen intend to go right after the breaking this spring and they are making no mistake in investing in this up-to-date machinery which should net them good returns.

Reopening Services

The reopening services of the Didsbury Methodist church will be held at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. on Sabbath next, 24th inst. Rev. W. E. Galloway, B. A., of Calgary will preach at both services. A special choir will have charge of the singing. Mrs. Rickard, recently of Calgary, and who was for some time soloist in Calgary Central Methodist church, will render a solo at each service. A cordial and general invitation is extended to the public. Sabbath school in same church at 2 p.m.

Cheap Lumber

There is quality in lumber, do not forget that. Poor lumber means a cold crude house, difficult to live in, difficult to rent, and difficult to sell. I carry cheap lumber suitable for some purposes, but the kind you want in your house I make a specialty of. My best grades I store in weather proof sheds. Did you ever consider how much your carpenter's time cost you to work up poor lumber. I am not advertising any cheap sale but I sell cheap always. Quick sales and small profits is my motto. Have you seen that shiplap I am selling at $20.00 per M? Have you seen those boards at $18.00 per M? I carry a complete stock of lumber. Anything you want you will find in my yard. No cash deposits required. You get what you see and buy and both quality and satisfaction is guaranteed.

If you contemplate building, call and see me. I can figure on that plan and tell you what it will cost any time.

PUBLISHED AT DIDSBURY, ALTA.

SUBSCRIPTION: One Dollar per year in advance. All arrears of six months or more will be at the rate of $1.50 per year. Advertising Rates quoted on application. H. E. OSMOND, EDITOR.

Just at this time the mail order house is active in flooding the country with big handsomely gotten up spring catalogues, quoting attractive prices on staple articles and making all sorts of big sounding claims for your cash. They do not offer to exchange goods for the farmers' eggs, poultry, butter or other produce. They don't trust a penny's worth, but make you pay cash before you get the goods and the freight besides. If anything is wrong with the goods or they do not suit, they will not exchange them for you. They pay no taxes into the town or district treasury, with which our schools are maintained, roads, bridges and sidewalks built. They do not contribute to our churches or charitable institutions.

Let everyone keep hustling to improve the appearance of the streets, lanes and lots. Keep all kinds of rubbish off the streets and sidewalks, and see that your houses, fences, etc., are neatly painted. There is nothing that helps the looks of the town and induces newcomers to settle in it more than neatly-painted houses and fences, neat and tidy streets and sidewalks and shade trees on your lots. Let us see what you will do for our progressive town.

Bring the news to this office. We are always glad to have our subscribers send or bring us items of news. If each one of our list of readers would give us one item a week what a grand local paper we could have. Send in anything but politics and we shall be thankful.

After reading this issue send it to your friend at a distance; or better yet, call at the office and send it to your friend or relative for six months or a year, for you can expect just such a paper as this for fifty-two weeks during the next year. Throw in your mite toward placing our town and district where they belong upon the map.

The average housewife will soon begin to make life a burden to the other inmates of the household. She will tie a rag around her head and wade into the dirt in a way that will make your head swim. She will tear up the carpets, empty the cupboards, look sour when you show up for dinner and slam and bang things around to the queen's taste, and if you don't like it take your meals uptown. Spring time is a very unhappy event when house cleaning is on.

One for Autoists

Editor Didsbury Pioneer.

On Sunday last a ten-year old boy was riding home from Didsbury when he was met by one of our sports driving an automobile, who in spite of the frightened boy's protesting, drove rapidly along unheeding. The result was the boy's horse got away and he had to hurry along home a distance of nine miles on foot in order that he might be there to attend to the chores on the farm.

We would like to see our so-called sports be a little more sportsmanlike than this one, as we feel the boy would be quite justified in getting a trick in on the auto which would be very easy.

What Hustlers Can Do

The reason why some towns grow is because there are men of push and energy in it who were not afraid to spend their time and money to loom their town. They erect substantial buildings, organize stock companies and establish factories, secure railroads, work for public improvements and use every means in their power to induce people to locate in their city. Wherever they go they tell of the advantages of their town, they write about them in every letter. They send circulars and newspapers to all whom they can get to visit the city, and when anyone visits them treat them so kindly that he falls in love with them and their city at once. It is enterprise and everyone pulling together that makes a progressive town, and don't let the fact escape your memory.—High River Times.

The Medicine Hat News has been purchased by Chas. J. Wilson, proprietor of the Times, in that city. The paper will be resorted as a daily.

The Man From Brodney's

By GEORGE BARR
MCCLUTCHEON

Copyright, 1908, by Dodd, Mead & Co.

The old friends took an inventory. Jack Wyckholme, gentleman's son and ne'er-do-weel, possessed £100 and a fraction, an appetite and excellent spirits, while Taswell Skaggs exhibited a balance of £1000 in a Shanghai bank, a fairly successful trade in Celestial necessities and an unbounded eagerness to change his luck.

"I have a proposition to make to you, Tazzy," said Mr. Wyckholme late in the night.

"I think I'll listen to it, Jackie," replied Mr. Skaggs, quite sober.

As the outcome of this midnight proposition Taswell Skaggs and John Wyckholme arrived two months later at the tiny island of Japet, somewhere south of the Arabian sea, there to remain until their dying days and there to accumulate the wealth which gave the first named a chance to make an extraordinary will. For thirty years they lived on the island of Japet. Wyckholme preceded Skaggs to the grave by two winters, and he willed his share of everything to his partner of thirty years' standing. But there was a proviso in Wyckholme's bequest, just as there was in that of Skaggs. Each had made his will some fifteen years or more before death, and each had bequeathed his fortune to the survivor. At the death of the survivor the entire property was to go to the grandchild of each testator, with certain reservations to be mentioned later on, each having his investigation discovered that he possessed a single grandchild.

The island of Japet had been the home of a Mohammedan tribe, the outgrowth of Arabian adventurers who had fared far from home many years before Wyckholme happened upon the island by accident. It was a British possession, and there were two or three thousand inhabitants, all Mohammedans. Skaggs and Wyckholme pursued the sea.

"There remains a chance for the heirs to break the will."

exposed the land from the natives, protected and eased their claims with the government and proceeded to realize on what the natives had unwittingly prepared for them. In course of time the natives repented, the British gave the Englishmen the right to pick and sell the rubies and other precious stones that they had been trading away for such trifles as guns, powder and women. A revolution was imminent, whereupon the owners organized the entire population into a great stock company, retaining four-fifths of the property themselves. This seemed to be a satisfactory arrangement, despite the fact that some of the more warlike leaders were difficult to appease. It is only necessary to add that the beautiful island of Japet, standing like an emerald in the sapphire waters of the orient, brought untold millions in money to the two men who had been unlucky in love.

And now, after more than thirty years of voluntary exile, both of them were dead, and both of them were buried in the heart of an island of rubies, their deed and their deeds remaining to posterity with reservations.

CHAPTER II.

AN EXTRAORDINARY DOCUMENT.

It appears that the Messrs. Skaggs and Wyckholme as their dual career drew to a close set about to learn what had become of their daughters. Investigation proved that Wyckholme's daughter had married a London artist named Rutheven. The Ruthevens in turn had one child, a daughter. Wyckholme's wife and his daughter died when this grandchild was eight or ten years old. By last report the grandchild was living with her father in London. She was a pretty young woman with scores of admirers on her hands and a very level head on her shoulders.

Wyckholme held to his acrement of Skaggs by bequeathing his share of the property to him, but was definitely set forth that at the death of his partner it was to go to Agnes Rutheven, the grandchild-with-reservations.

Skaggs found that his daughter, who married Rutheven, the American, had died, but that she had left behind a son and heir. This son, Robert Browne, was in school when the joint will was designed, and he was to have Skaggs' fortune with Wyckholme in case that worthy survived.

In order to keep the business and the property intact, and under the personal control of one partnership the grandchild of Wyckholme was to marry the grandson of Skaggs within the year after the death of the surviving partner. The penalty to be imposed upon them if the conditions were not complied with, neither to be exonerated for the defection of the other, lay in the provision that the whole industry and its accumulated fortune, including the land and the island, were to go to the islanders. Wyckholme named Sir John Allen-More as one executor, and Skaggs selected Alfred Bowen of Boston as the other. As Wyckholme was the first to die, Skaggs became sole owner of the land and its treasures, and it was he who made the final will in accordance with the original plans.

The island of Japet, with its jewels and its ancient chateau, of modern construction, represented several million pounds sterling. Wyckholme's dream of meeting the grandchild of a famous old chateau found response in the equally whimsical Skaggs, who contented himself with the fact that it was impossible to spend money. For five years after its completion the two men, with an army of Arabian retainers and Nahian slaves, lived like oriental potentates in the huge structure on the highlands overlooking the sea.

Skaggs seldom went from one part of his home to another without a guide. It was so vast and so labyrinthine that he feared he might become lost forever. The reason lay low the chateau and the most with its bridges were the especial delight of these lonely, romantic old chaps. One of the builders of this rare spot was now sleeping peacefully in the sarcophagus beneath the chapel; the other was lying dead and undiscovered in the worst of his possessions.

The magnificent plans of the partners would have been a glorious tribute to romance had it not proved for one fatal obstacle. The trouble was that young Miss Rutheven and young Mr. Browne did not know that their grandfathers' lives had been such that they owned an island in the south seas. Therefore it is quite natural that they could not have known they were expected to marry each other.

Miss Rutheven, from motives peculiar to the head and not to the heart, set about to earn a title for herself. Three months before the death of Mr. Skaggs she was married to Lord Dordingham, who possessed a title and a country place that rightfully belonged to his creditors. Mr. Browne, just out of college, hung out his shingle as a physician and surgeon and forthwith, with all the confidence his profession gave him, he looked around the room with her nose in the air, as if things was not good enough for her, only she rubbed her finger to see if it was clean, and she peeped in the dark corners and then looked at the dust on her fingers and sniffed.

Miss Rutheven can't imagine who the creature can be. My husband's mother and sisters are away.

"It is very exciting," murmured Mr. Hare for the third time. "I suppose the first step is to notify young Mr. Browne of his inheritance. His lordship has the task of breaking the news to Lady Dordingham."

"You are assuming that I intend to act upon this ridiculous will."

"Certainly. It means about $500,000 to you at the end of the year, with nothing to do but to notify two persons of the terms in the will. If they're not divorced and married again at the end of the year you and Mr. John must turn everything over to the Malaya, or whatever they are. I think it's easy sledding for you."

Young Mr. Browne hastened downtown in response to a message from the American executor and was told of the will which had been filed in England, the home land of the testator. To say that this demoralized, good looking young gentleman was flabbergasted would be putting it more than mildly.

"What shall I do—what can I do, Mr. Bowen?" he gasped, bewildered.

"Consult an attorney," advised Mr. Bowen promptly.

"I'll do it," shouted Bobby Browne, one time halfback on his college team. "Break the will for me, Mr. Bowen, and I'll give."

"I can't break it, Bobby. I'm its executor."

"Good Lord! Well, then, who is the best will breaker you know, please? Something has to be done right away."

"I'm afraid you don't grasp the situation. Now, if you were not married I would."

"I wouldn't give up my wife for all the islands in the universe. That's settled. You don't know how happy we are. She's the best."

"Yes, yes, I know," interrupted the wily Mr. Bowen. "Don't tell me about it. Go and see Judge Garrett, over in the building. They say he expects to come back from the grave to break his own will."

Ten minutes later an excited young man rushed into an office in the K. building.

"You will have to fight it jointly," said Judge Garrett after extracting the whole story from the mouth of Browne's remarks. "You can't take her away from her, she can't get away from you."

"The lawyer," said Nelson.

And what he said was true, for the organization to which Nelson belonged and which excluded both lawyers and liquor sellers was the Knights of Labor.

More Than He Wanted.

At Dundas, twenty miles east of Winnipeg, on the farm of Guy Scott, there is a flowing well which has caused considerable trouble to the owner and municipality of Springfield. Mr. Scott wanted an artesian well and he bored down to the rock, a distance of 200 feet. The water gushed up powerfully and at the top of a pipe thirty feet above the ground the flow was as strong as at the surface of the ground.

The well was dug a year ago and since then the water has been gushing out over the land altogether beyond the control of the owner of the farm. The Springfield Council gave a grant toward helping Mr. Scott to control the water and concrete to the thickness of ten feet was put all around the pipe. The force, however, was still so strong that the water spouted out all around the concrete. The water is now running away for miles under the snow.

There is reason to believe that the C.P.R. will take hold and help control the situation by piping the water to Hazelridge for tank purposes.

Graham the Jester.

The chief "jester" in the House of Commons is Hon. George P. Graham, the Minister of Railways and Canals. His good humor is irresistible, and he is called upon by every right corner by reason thereof. The Graham smile is different from the sunny one which made Sir Wilfrid famous. It is a broad, big-hearted grin. An instance of the Minister's "jolly" tactics, unswervingly employed, was given recently during an animated talk over the question of granting water powers to private individuals. This is one of those bugbears of Parliament, and frequently the Opposition is hoarse with argument long and lustily against neglecting what they thought were the duties of the Government. Graham pointed out that these were adequately safeguarded by the Railway Commission, and that the water powers were given to the private individual. The next bill on the order paper was that standing in the name of Alexander H. Hargrave, member for, to incorporate the Congressional Union of Canada.

"St.," he laughed Mr. Graham. "This is a Baptist aggregation. Whereat the House smiled hugely."

Comfort.

TEN FOR TEN CENTS

A Difference of Viewpoints.

Mr. Frank Nelson, who in addition to being the best known race-caster in Canada is sporting editor of the Toronto Globe, an old lake sailor and several other things beside, was one of the chief witnesses against the Miller anti-betting bill in the recent special enquiry at Ottawa. After he had given his evidence, Mr. W. E. Rance of Toronto, who represented the religious interests back of the measure, approached Nelson in the corridor and said:

"Well," replied Nelson, "there's a good deal of difference of opinion everywhere as to what constitutes an objectionable character. Now used to belong to a very fine organization and it specified only two classes of people which it would not admit to membership under any consideration. Would you like to know what they were?"

"Yes," said Mr. Rance.

"One was the liquor seller."

"Quite right," said Mr. Rance.

"What was the other?"

"The lawyer," said Nelson.

And what he said was true, for the organization to which Nelson belonged and which excluded both lawyers and liquor sellers was the Knights of Labor.

Something Big for the Money.

Mr. Bighart—"Wiggins," old boy, we have raised $50 to get the best a Christmas present, and we want something that will make a show for the money—something that will look big, you know. Can't you suggest something?

"Wiggins—"Sure. Buy $50 worth of rice and boil it."

Trial is Inexpensive.—To those who suffer from dyspepsia, indigestion, rheumatism or any ailment arising from derangement of the digestive system, a trial of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills is recommended, should the sufferer be unconvinced with the result will be another customer for this excellent medicine. So effective is their action that many cures can certainly be traced to their use where other pills have proved ineffective.

Hostess.—It's beginning to rain. You'll get wet. I think you'd better stay to dinner.

Besides, the G.O.P., dear no! It's not raining so badly as all that.

BANISH PIMPLES AND ERUPTIONS

In the Spring Most People Need a Tonic Medicine.

If you want new health and new strength in the spring, you must build up your blood with a tonic medicine. Following the long indoor winter, the blood is impure, the system is clogged, and the body is tired. This means that the blood is impure and weak. It is this state of the blood that causes pimples and unsightly eruptions. To this same condition is due attacks of rheumatism and lameness, the sharp stabbing pains of sciatica and neuralgia; poor appetite, frequent headaches, and a desire to avoid exertion. You can't cure these troubles by the use of purgatives; you need a tonic and a tonic only, and among all medicines there is none can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. These pills are life-giving nerve restoring powers. Every dose of this medicine makes new, rich blood, which drives out impurities, stimulates every organ, and brings a feeling of new health and energy to the body. If you are feeling out of sorts, give this medicine a trial, it will not disappoint you. Mr. Paul Charbonneau, a young man well known in the town of St. Jerome, Que., is one of the best who bear testimony to the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. He said: "When I left school I became a book-keeper in an important office. Probably due to overwork I began to suffer from indigestion and loss of strength. I became pale and seemingly bloodless and was often sick. My head ached, my feet ached, and my back ached. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and did so, and the use of them did me good. I gained weight, felt health and strength. I have since enjoyed the best of health and continue to be in the prime of this valuable medicine."

Sold by all Medicine Dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

ALL FOR $3.00

EACH ONE A LEADER IN ITS OWN PARTICULAR LINE

The evenings are growing long and cold. An easy chair and a paper beside the heater begin to look good. It is time to decide what papers to take; we say papers, for the time is just when the farmer is satisfied with one periodical in his home. Here is an offer that will interest you now, and meet the needs of readers of both sexes, young and old, during the long winter months when the papers have become family friends.

There is the Weekly Free Press and Prairie Farmer with the news of the world and live departments for the farmer, his wife and the young people; The Nor-West Farmer, issued twice a month, the recognized farm paper of the west; The Western Home Monthly, full of bright stories and interesting information for every member of the family.

These three publications, including your own home paper with all the local happenings, four papers in all for $3 a year.

Send enclosed the sum of $3.00 for which send the papers mentioned below to the following address or addresses:

In Need of Farm Laborers

The activity in all industries this spring is affecting the farm labor supply. Some steps should be taken at once to fill the demand.

Despite the heavy immigration, the shortage seems to be increasing rather than diminishing, as very many of the newcomers at once locate on home-steads of their own and in a short time become themselves employers of labor. Heretofore many of the farmers have depended upon the Dominion government immigration officials to supply their requirements for experienced and inexperienced help, but so acute is the situation this year that it is far beyond the resources of the department to cope with it.

The commissioner of immigration estimates from letters on file in his office that no less than 7,000 farm hands are urgently required in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, and figuring on a comparative basis it is probable that 10,000 or even 12,000 could find immediate employment. The shortage is most acute in Manitoba and is least felt in Alberta as this province has not yet reached the same stage of agricultural development as the two sister provinces. Hundreds of men have been sent out, but they seem to be swallowed up without appreciably reducing the demand.

According to the files of the immigration department, many of the smaller towns and centres have sent in requests for from 20 to 100 men.

Wages are correspondingly high for the class of labor in demand. The majority of farmers prefer to secure their labor on yearly contract, though many of them hire for seven or eight months, dating from April. For experienced farm laborers the wages run from $250 to $275 per year together with board and lodgings. Inexperienced men command a wage running from $150 to $180 per annum, with everything food except clothing. Married couples, for whom there are openings for at least one fixed with the commissioner of immigration at Winnipeg, can command a wage of from $350 to $400 per year.

It is slowly but surely that raising contains high fuel value and nutritive power. This being the fact, says one authority, advise your trade to eat raisins, as they are rich in carbohydrates, which the body needs in doing its work.

The use of concrete, now engaged in so extensively by progressive farmers in the States, is gradually growing in favor among farmers of Canada, for the construction of foundations, culverts, cisterns and ditches, concrete has proved of unusual and lasting merit. Farmers have recognized the possibilities concrete possesses for cheap, sanitary and fireproof buildings. Its utility in other forms of farm construction is admitted.

New Currency Act

The bill to revise the Currency Act, which was put through the House of Commons, Ottawa, this week, will be at once another proof of the advancement of Canada to the status of an independent nation within the empire, and at the same time a revolution of the Dominion's monetary system, in so far as the familiar coins of the present day goes. It provides for the coinage in the mint at Ottawa of these coins:

Gold—Twenty dollars, ten dollars, five dollars and two and a half dollars.
Silver—one dollar, fifty cents, twenty-five cents, ten cents and five cents.
Bronze—One cent.

Those who are lucky enough to have familiar connection with the coin of the realm will at once recognize that hereafter they will have some unfamiliar figures to meet.

The chief change in the silver coin is the creation of a Canadian silver dollar, which is designed to meet the wishes of the Pacific provinces.

Another important amendment to the old Currency Act was a provision that hereafter no man can offer in exchange for a debt more than 25 one-cent pieces.

Enormous Revenue

The total revenue of the Dominion for the fiscal year which closed March 31st, has passed the $100,000,000 mark, an increase of about $4,000,000 over the previous record year of 1906-7. The final figures will not be known for some weeks yet, but from statements of the customs and other sources of revenue already available, it is safe to state that the total will be a little over $100,000,000. This is an increase of about $2,500,000 over Mr. Fielding's estimate of revenue, as made in his budget speech of December last, and should bring the surplus for the year up to the record figure of nearly $10,000,000—High River Times.

There will be an increase of at least 25 per cent in the crop acreage of western Canada this year, and in some parts the increase will be as high as 50 per cent.

A dispatch states that two English missions and a Norwegian mission have been destroyed in the riots at Chang China, China. A British gunboat is now on the way to the town to protect the property of the foreigners.

Calgary is to have a suitable horse show pavilion in which to annually exhibit the best there is in the horse line in all Canada. The proposition is to erect a building in cost $50,000, to be used by the Horsemen's Association and the hockey and curling clubs of the city.

An interesting new train is the daily local east from Calgary. Hundreds of people have been going during the past year into the region east and northeast of that city, and the district has increased enormously in importance.

Grape fruit, like the orange and lemon, is said to be possessed of marked medicinal qualities. It is of great value as a corrective of the stomach and digestive organs, and also as a tonic stimulant.

Pains About Heart Splitting Headaches

Caused Much Suffering and Alarm—
But all is Well Now Since Using
DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD.

Nearly everybody gets serious when the heart is affected. Headache often tells of just as great danger but headache is so common that it often falls as an alarm signal. You are never in greater danger than when the nervous system becomes exhausted. For there is then every reason to look forward to some form of paralysis and consequent helplessness of mind or body.

Stoopiness, headaches, indigestion, irritability, nervousness, loss of interest in things about you and inability to concentrate the mind are some of the symptoms of approaching nervous collapse.

Let the writer of this letter tell you what Dr. Chase's Nerve Food did for him when in such a condition.

Mr. J. Law, 367 Hunter street, Peterborough, Ont., and who is employed with the Peter Hamilton Co., states: "For a long time I was troubled with severe splitting headaches, and suffered a great deal with pains in the region of my heart, caused no doubt by indigestion. I procured a box of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and began this treatment. Since using this preparation for some time, I can say that I felt quite different, and my health is very much improved. My digestion is good, and the headaches and pains about my heart have not troubled me at all of late. I can sincerely recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as a thorough cure for nervous dyspepsia and its accompanying symptoms."

You can rely on Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to bring you safely out of trouble when the nerves become exhausted, because it supplies in condensed and easily assimilated form the ingredients which nature requires to build up new nerve cells.

In severe cases treatment must be regular and persistent but you will soon notice signs of improvement which will give you encouragement. Why not get started on the road to health today? Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cts a box, all dealers or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Sphinx of Lead Disappears

After standing for nearly two centuries in Wilderness Wood, Tillingbourne Valley, a beautifully modelled sphinx has mysteriously disappeared. About the size of a pony, the sphinx was made of lead, and it is feared that it has been ruthlessly broken up and carried away. It is believed that at one time important residence stood on the spot.

SAVANTEE ANTISEPTIC SHAVING

Not only is Cuticura Soap, assisted by Cuticura Ointment, unrivalled for preserving, purifying and beautifying the skin and hair, but it is a luxury for shampooing, bathing and especially for shaving. It too, Cuticura Ointment, form the medicinal, emollient, sanative and antiseptic properties of Cuticura Ointment, the supplying of firm, moist, non-drying, creamy and fragrant lather. After shaving, and before bathing the face, gently moisten the shaved parts with a bit of Cuticura Ointment. This method renders frequent shaving a pleasure and renders itself to men with tender, easily irritated skins, and as a preventive of irritation and inflammation of the hair glands which, if neglected, often lead to obstinate and disfiguring eruptions.

THE DIVER'S EL DORADO.

An old English diver, employed as a salvage job on the coast of Canada, used to pass his evenings at an inn frequented by fishermen, one of whom, repeating a tradition which had long existed in the district, told the diver that a ship of the Spanish Armada had been wrecked not far from the coast. After dragging the spot indicated for many weeks for traces of the wreck, they were at last rewarded by coming upon obstructions with their grapnels. The diver brought out his diving apparatus, descended to the spot supposed to be the remains of an old Spanish vessel, and in making search came across a large number of dollars which had originally been packed in small barrels; the wood, however, had rotted away and left the coins stacked in barrel shape. With the proceeds the diver built himself a row of houses, which he called Dollar Row.

The first organized living forms are extremely minute and can only be recognized by powerful microscopes. A filtered infusion of hay, allowed to stand for two or three days, will literally swarm with living things, many of them not exceeding the forty-thousandth part of an inch in diameter. And yet, minute as these animals are, they are distinctly alive. They dart about and digest, showing off their jellylike substance to seize their food.

No Latitude

An Irish school inspector was examining a class in geography. He had propounded a question regarding longitude, and received a correct answer from the lad undergoing the ordeal.

The younger daughter of Mrs. T. S. Dougal, 523 Flora Avenue, Winnipeg, was arranging some of her doll's washing on a clothes rack, beside the stove, when she fell, and her hand, arm, and her neck were scalded by her mother quickly to the spot.

"I sent to the drugist for the best remedy he had for such a case," said she, and he sent back a box of Zambuk. He said that there was nothing to be done, if it applied this, and it soothed the pain so quickly that the child laughed through her tears. I found up the bottle in Zambuk, and each day applied Zambuk frequently and liberally, until the burn was quite cured."

"The little one was soon able to go on with her play and we had no trouble with her during the time the burn was being healed. I would recommend all mothers to keep Zambuk handy for emergencies of this kind."

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS CURED MR. F. MAULIFFE'S LUMBAGO

Lachute man, after fourteen years suffering, finds health and strength in an old Reliable Kidney remedy.

Lachute, Que. (Specialist).—After fourteen years of suffering, which started from rheumatism, followed by dropsical swellings, and culminated in Lumbago, and confined him to his bed, Mr. F. Mauliffe, a well-known resident of this place, has recently recovered his health, and he says without hesitation, "I am sure I owe it entirely to Dodd's Kidney Pills."

I was laid up with Pleurisy, which affected my kidneys," Mr. Mauliffe continues. "I suffered a great deal of pain, especially in my back. I was also terribly troubled with dropsical swellings, and finally, after many attempts to get rid of my trouble, I found my life in peril of giving up."

And yet, minute as these animals are, they are distinctly alive. They dart about and digest, showing off their jellylike substance to seize their food.

After the victim's ear was gone, his face battered beyond recognition, two teeth loose and his nose disjointed the things desisted.

Brush to be Cut Down

The regular meeting of the Council took place in the Council Chamber on Monday night, Mayor Atkins, Councilors Osmond, Galt, St. Clair, Moyer and Hunsberger being present.

A communication was received from Oser, Hammond & Nanton stating that they had given orders to have all the brush on C. & E. to be cut down.

The Lockerville sidewalk question, again, boiled up, severely. Mr. R. Oliver was present in Dr. Lackner's interests. Two letters had been handed to Council. Moyer to be read at Council meeting from Messrs. M. J. Parker and L. Stokely in the matter and as they were only statements and not affidavits the Council felt that they were not evidence.

The usual discussion took place and after some time it was moved:

Good Osmond—That this Council consider that at the present time it is not in possession of sufficient evidence or information to justify the payment of indemnity to persons claiming same for sidewalk in Lockerville. Carried.

The constable was instructed to carry out the instructions of the Council in regard to manure in lanesways.

Improving the block of C. P. R. land north of the depot, west of the track, and the park were also subjects under discussion.

The scavenger will clean up all rubbish in lanesways.

Osmond-St. Clair—That a public meeting be held in Fraternity Hall, Opera House block, on Tuesday, April 26th, at 8 o'clock, to reorganize the Fire Brigade. Carried.

The Council requests every person to be at this meeting as it is of the utmost importance to the welfare of the town.

Osmond-St. Clair—That the Council of Revision be held on Tuesday, May 26th, at 10 a.m. Carried.

A motion was also passed that a special meeting of the Council be held on Thursday, April 28th, for the purpose of discussing the assessment roll. The Council then adjourned.

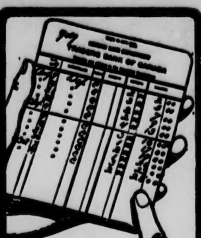

Don't forget the meeting in the Opera House next Tuesday evening for the purpose of reorganizing the Fire Brigade.

The Council held a test of the fire engines on Thursday night last under the direction of Chief Liesemer. The test was entirely satisfactory.

Mrs. J. P. Conrad and son Earl of Calgary, wife and son of the general manager of the Golden West Hotel, arrived on Friday last to take up their residence here.

If the rascol who poisoned so many dogs in Lockerville would distribute the same amount of poison amongst the gophers in the outlying districts we would call him a philanthropist. The farmers cannot be too vigilant in destroying these pests before they get too numerous.

Regular Savings Count Up

when deposited in the Trades Bank.

Regular deposits of One, Two or Three Dollars grow into tens and hundreds, more quickly than larger ones made only occasionally.

It is a mistake to wait as some do, till they have accumulated a good-sized amount. Get the habit of depositing something, even if only a dollar, every week or every fortnight.

Dandruff Germs Must Go

In Canada the dandruff germs must go. The war of extermination has been declared. The battle has begun, and already thousands of intelligent Canadians have permanently rid themselves of this blemish.

Today it is no more necessary for a man to have dandruff in his hair than to have tartar on his teeth.

Dandruff can never be cured until the small, aggravating and indomitable dandruff germ is conquered and destroyed.

A million of dandruff germs have been destroyed, thanks to the great scientist and dermatologist who gave to the world Parisian Sage, the only real dandruff cure and hair grower the world has ever known.

If you have dandruff, Parisian Sage will cure you in two weeks.

But besides ridding the scalp of dandruff, Parisian Sage is guaranteed to stop falling hair and itching of the scalp. It is not a dye. It is a prime favorite with women of refinement. It makes the hair soft, lustrous and beautiful, and is not sticky or greasy.
